

MEDIA RELEASE

November 1, 2022

Flightcare Global Appoints New Regional Sales Director

Flightcare Global is pleased to announce the appointment of Yvonne Goh as Regional Sales Director, APAC. Yvonne brings with her a wealth of experience in the aviation industry and has an extensive background in medical support services. She joins us following two key positions within the aviation industry where she has developed a stellar reputation for results, customer service and client care and is recognised and widely respected across the region. We are delighted to welcome Yvonne to our growing team.

In announcing Yvonne’s appointment, Sarah Magee, Chief Commercial Officer said, “I could not be more thrilled to welcome Yvonne to Flightcare Global. I have had the pleasure of working alongside Yvonne for many years previously and simply could not wish for a better person to oversee the APAC region. Yvonne’s experience and relationships within the region will be a huge benefit to Flightcare Global – welcome aboard Yvonne!”

For further information please contact Sarah Magee, Director & Chief Commercial Officer, at sarah.magee@flightcareglobal.com

About Flightcare Global

Flightcare Global (www.flightcareglobal.com) provides access to a wide range of cutting-edge products and services designed to manage medical events pre-flight, in-flight, and on the ground through innovative solutions, highly customised to their client’s operations. Flightcare Global’s approach is technology-based and cost-effective, delivered by a multi-disciplinary team with backgrounds in high-level medical, operational and account management.